

The Studio

The Quest Studio, (formerly Artonomy) is a virtual environment created to share the ongoing work and continued focus and commitment of Indigenous Education, Equity and Dismantling Anti-Black Racism through the Arts. Join us in the Studio for a live broadcast featuring SteelPan Artist and Composer Joy Lapps-Lewis along with the staff and students at a YRDSB school and a live stream learning experience for students to use their gifts, passions and strengths to create a digital message using Soundtrap while making connections to what ethical leadership means to them.

Information about these learning experiences can be found in the Quest program and registration will take place through Connect 2 Learn.
